Outcome Feedback

Annie has shown immense improvements since the beginning of her placement in my classroom. She has learned a lot in a few weeks time. Annie is great at planning and delivering a variety of lessons to our students. She taught mathematical concepts, taught students how to use music as a form of expression and also wrote a song for our students to present at our character matters assembly. Annie takes initiative, developed a great relationship with many staff members at our school, and the students feel comfortable and safe in her presence. Annie works really well with our student with ASD, she supports all learning needs and is inclusive of all. Annie knows how to celebrate student strengths and is always praising students on their achievements. Annie has learned how to document and assess students. She has learned about the importance of documenting through the use of EDSBY and knows how to showcase student learning. She has learned the importance of using a comprehensive literacy and math program with her students. Annie has been able to gauge student behaviour and is quick to offer movement or calming breaks. It has been a pleasure having Annie in our classroom and she will make a great asset to any classrooms in the future.
